Two mails per day are wanted.

Creating Great Interest.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—The national tariff convention to be held in this city on the 29th and 30th insts., is creating great interest throughout the country. More than 450 delegates have already been elected. It is estimated representatives of more than $100,000,000 capital invested in manufactures will be present, while the mechanical, labor and farming interests will be equally well represented.

Patti will Visit Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 14.—The musical festival association this afternoon closed a contract for the appearance of Patti at a performance of the oratorio of Messiah in Music Hall during Christmas week this year, and the official announcement of the event was made to members of the chorus at rehearsal to-night.

Moving Troops.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—This morning three companies of artillery arrived from the east, two from Portland, Me., and the other from Boston. They are on their way to San Francisco, and at noon left for the west over the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Railroad Problem.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—A report on "The Railroad Problem," by Joseph Nimmo, Jr., chief of the bureau of statistics, embraces a discussion of the following subjects: Reduction in the cost of transportation on railroads; practical determination of railroad freight charges; railroad confederations on pooling organizations; causes of the failure of the laws of supply and demand and of competition to regulate freight charges on railroads as on free highways of commerce; the practical workings of railway confederations; the practicability of governmental recognition of railroad confederations for the pooling of traffic, and governmental regulation of railroads.

Under the head of "Reduction in the cost of transportation on railroads," the reduction in cost in transportation on railroads of the country generally is very clearly indicated by a table embracing data with respect to thirteen leading railroads. It appears that the number of tons of freight carried on thirteen railroads increased from 45,657,000 tons during 1873 to 78,160,913 tons during 1880, an increase of about 71 per cent. The receipts from freights, however, increased from $112,054,648 in 1873 to $113,378,178 in 1880, an increase of about 28 per cent. This small rate of increase of receipts in proportion to the increase of traffic was due to the fact that the average rate per ton charged on these thirteen railroads fell from 1.77 cents per ton per mile in 1873 to 1.07 cents per ton per mile in 1880, a decrease of 39.5 per cent.

A commission of experts is recommended for an investigation of the subject of railroad transportation.

A Story of Dorsey.

There arrived in the city yesterday a gentleman who is taking great interest in the star route prosecution. His name is Jennings and he comes here to tell his little story, which is without doubt a counterpart of hundreds of others which sub-contractors could tell, were they so disposed. Among Dorsey's routes in Montana was one about 200 miles in length. The schedule of the route allowed 84 hours for the trip and required three trips per week. The pay for service was $22,000. Dorsey sub-let this route to Jennings for $12,000, and pocketed $10,000 clear cash. Dorsey two years since went to work and had the route expedited from 84 to 60 hours and the pay consequently raised to about $35,000. He pocketed the $13,000 additional and told Jennings he had better make his trip in 60 hours instead of 84 hours as the government would prefer it, but made no raise in the contract price. Jennings obligingly attempted to do his work in 60 hours, but failed frequently, owing to insufficient equipment. As a result fines were inflicted, and last year Mr. Jennings' fines exceeded his pay as sub-contractor by $1000. This proceeding naturally made Jennings' contract unprofitable and he was obliged to throw it up. The government is thoroughly investigating it, and it is thought Jennings' fine will be remitted eventually.

Mahone for the Cabinet.

There seems to be a growing impression here that Senator Mahone may be tendered a cabinet position with a view of encouraging a further revolt against the democracy in the south. Democratic senators who are here do not hesitate to say that their party would fight against Mahone's confirmation. One of them says the democratic senators would keep the senate in a deadlock till the end of congress before they would let Mahone be confirmed as a cabinet officer. Senator Blair, who is a warm friend of Mahone's and who has talked with him a great deal about his political aspirations, says he does not believe that Mahone would leave the senate with nearly a full term ahead of him to accept a cabinet position.

A Stalwart Wins.

Samuel E. Carrothers, who was confirmed by the senate as postmaster at MacKeesport, Pa., and whom Congressmen Bayne and others have worked so hard against, this morning saw Postmaster General James and had an interview with him. Carrothers is represented as a Cameron man in Pennsylvania politics, and the anti-Cameron element undertook to get the president not to sign his commission. The anti-Camerounites wanted one of their set appointed. After Carrothers' interview with James the latter ordered the commission sent to the president for his signature and it has gone up. This indicates that the president has determined to sign Carrothers' commission.

Served them Right.

First Assistant Postmaster General Hatton to-day discontinued the postoffice at Shackelford's, King and Sutter county, Va., because the people of the town would not let the postmaster have a place for an office. All the citizens of the town are democrats and they objected to the appointment of Goalder, because he is a readjuster. They refused to rent him a room for an office, and when he bought lumber refused to let him have ground on which to erect an office. This case was thus represented to the department and the office was ordered discontinued.

Postal Changes.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Pacific coast postal changes for the week ending Nov. 12:

Established, Larsen, Klickitat Co., W. T., Mercal S. Short, P. M.

Discontinued, Collins Landing, Skamania Co., W. T.

Postmasters appointed, C. A. Miller, Millers Linn Co., Or.; Otto Klement, Lyman, Wastcom Co., W. T.

Introduced to Arthur.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Hon. Lionel Sackville West, new British minister, called upon President Arthur this afternoon and formally presented his credentials. He was introduced to the president by Blaine and the customary congratulatory addresses were made.

Windom's Parting.

Judge Folger to-day assumed the duties of secretary of the treasury. Ex-Secretary Windom turned over to his successor certain keys which are always kept by the secretary, and bade him good-bye. Windom was much affected and remarked in private conversation that these changes revived the sad memories of the past summer.

Left for Philadelphia.

Attorney General MacVeagh, took formal leave of the department of justice this morning and will leave this afternoon for Philadelphia.

An Unpleasant Report.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—It is reported the position of assistant secretary of the treasury will be tendered to George C. Gorham.

Guiteau's Trial.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The trial of Guiteau will be begun to-morrow in criminal court. Hosts of witnesses are summoned on both sides, and arrangements perfected to seat all spectators allowed in court. No lounging is permitted in aisles or corridors. John N. Guiteau, of Boston, and his sister, Mrs. Scoville, visited their brother at jail this afternoon. The interview lasted nearly two hours. The prisoner betrayed no unusual emotion at the meeting, and after exchanging salutations began the old story of causes which tempted him to commit the crime. He expressed no regret for his action, but reiterated his previous story about being inspired by God. Geo. Scoville, Guiteau's counsel, stated this evening that his client insisted it should be his prerogative to make a statement in court to-morrow, and Guiteau has been engaged the past ten days in preparing a document setting forth his views, which he will probably produce as soon as court opens to-morrow, unless prevented by Judge Cox. Scoville said to-night that it was not the intention of counsel to introduce trivial objections in selecting a jury. They will endeavor to obtain a jury composed of men capable of rendering a fair verdict on hearing the evidence and who will not be carried away by public clamor against their convictions.

THE GUITEAU TRIAL.

I mean to have Conkling, Grant and Arthur come to time. I made Garfield what he was and I mean to have the court decide whether Guiteau or the Lord fired the bullet. Why, when Judge Cox hears my speech he will do what I ask as the inspiration of God.

Here the prisoner wanted to recite his speech, and said he would have it so well memorized as not to need any manuscript. He declared in his trial he would not allow either the subject of insanity or Oneida community discussed. In fact he would not allow anything to be brought up except to show that his act was that of God.

The court room was crowded when the case of Guiteau was called. District Attorney Corkhill, Porter of New York and Davidge of Washington appeared for the prosecution, and Scoville and Leigh Robinson for the defense. Smith was present to represent the attorney general. One of Guiteau's first moves was to thrust his hand into his pocket and half take out a roll of paper. Scoville, however, in dumb play ordered him to put it back and he did so. Then the district attorney declared his readiness and the prosecution proceeded with the case. Robinson then arose to make a plea for still more time to procure defense, which appeared not to meet the approval of Guiteau. All the time Robinson was speaking Guiteau was carrying on what appeared to be a remonstrance with Scoville, who was apparently trying to quiet and suppress him. At the close of Robinson's speech Guiteau insisted on being heard. He said he was not aware postponement was to be requested. He desired to be heard in his own behalf at the very threshold of the case. So far as he was concerned he did not want further time. He was ready to try the case now. Owing to the opposition of Scoville and the prisoner to the application of Robinson for extension of time the court stated for the present the case should proceed as far at least as the swearing of the jury was concerned. They would consider the question of extension.

About 11 o'clock the work of obtaining a jury was begun. The three presented were disqualified, two on the ground they had formed mixed opinions on the case and the other on the ground that he had conscientious scruples on the subject of capital punishment. In examining the jurors Scoville went over a large range of questions as to their religious and political belief.

Five jurors have been obtained and sworn in. Their names and occupations are as follows: John P. Harlin, restaurant keeper; Fred W. Brandenberg, cigar maker; Charles G. Stewart, flour and grain dealer; Henry J. Bright, retired from business; and Thos. H. Langley, grocer.

The panel was exhausted after five jurors had been obtained. At the suggestion of the district attorney an order was issued for drawing 75 names from a box. The prisoner at this moment slowly rose and informed the court he would like to make a speech to-morrow morning, but he was ordered by the court to take his seat. He then passed his manuscript speech to a newspaper man, but before the latter could leave the court room Scoville called him back and compelled him to return it. This raised the anger of the prisoner, who excitedly declared he was not under control of his counsel, that he was a lawyer and knew law himself and that when he wanted help he would ask for it. He desired his speech to be published for the purpose of influencing public opinion. He was again silenced by the clerk, and it having been agreed the sitting of court should be from 10 A. M. to 3 P. M. daily, allowing half an hour for recess, the court adjourned.

A Court Room Scene.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—The following description of the scene in the Washington court room to-day is received by special dispatch:

As Robinson sat down Guiteau arose and said: "If your honor please I desire to address the court." His manner was calm and business-like. People rose to their feet all over the room but there was no disturbance. He went on, "I did not know my counsel was ready to make his speech this morning. I desire to speak for myself. I am here on a murderous charge and I desire to be heard in my own defence."

"This is not the time to enter upon the defense," said Judge Cox, quietly, "It is only in question whether more time is necessary for preparing your defense."

"It is not needed," said Guiteau, "We are ready to go on with the case now."

Robinson smiled at this and asked Guiteau to sit down. The prisoner said, "you keep still;" but he did sit down, muttering as he did so, "we are ready to go ahead now."

Col. Corkhill said he saw no reason why the time should be extended.

Mr. Robinson made affidavit that one ground on which he asked delay was in order to get the necessary witnesses and counsel. He said he was practically alone in the case and needed some one. There was doubtless an evident split between Scoville and Robinson.

Scoville, addressing the court, said Robinson's application was made without his knowledge, which was a strange proceeding, since he had not even seen the affidavit nor heard what counsel hoped to get. For his part he was ready to go on with the trial. He knew he was incompetent to go ahead without assistance, but he had hoped without Robinson's assistance to be able to proceed. Even now he hoped to be of some assistance to Mr. Robinson, but if he was to go on this way he (Scoville) should withdraw.

Here Guiteau jumped to his feet, and said, in an excited manner, "I indorse every word he says. Robinson came into this case without consulting me, and I don't like the way he talks. I order him peremptorily to withdraw from the case."

Robinson renewed his application. Scoville claimed the near relatives of the prisoner should at least know he was expected to come for the defense.

Guiteau again interposed, "We don't want Robinson anyway. This is peremptory, and he must go."

Scoville went on: "If we have time enough we could get counsel good enough and plenty without money; but if the court is going to give us time, and at the same time assign us counsel, I don't agree with it."

With this Guiteau jumped up again rapping on the table with his knuckles and said: "Mr. Scoville is next to me in this case. I intend to do this business myself. Robinson is not wanted.

The officers tried to keep him quiet, but he told them to mind their own business. He was in the presence of the court and would talk when he felt like it.

Col. Corkhill asked the court to try to keep the prisoner quiet, whereupon Guiteau sat down, saying he would do whatever the court wished him to, and was comparatively quiet.

Guiteau's Eccentricities.

Guiteau's performances in court to-day seem to have convinced a few persons that he really is crazy, but the general opinion is, he overdid his acting and that the same shrewdness with which he planned the assassination and his escape from the mob, prompted him to his line of conduct this morning, with a view of backing up his plea of insanity. He was undoubtedly much excited, especially when two policemen seized him. He threw them off violently and told them to mind their own business, he proposed to conduct his own case. The course of Robinson, associate counsel, in asking for postponement and for additional counsel without consulting Scoville, his chief, was commented on as unusual in practice. Scoville says such a proceeding is unheard of and that he will retire from the case if Robinson is permitted to hold such a highhanded course. Scoville was very indignant in court and was only pacified by assurances of the judge that nothing should be done without consulting him. The beginning of the trial was full of incidents and excitement.

Guiteau's Speech.

In the speech which Guiteau had prepared for delivery in court to-day, he says he is charged with murdering one James A. Garfield. Nothing can be more absurd, because General Garfield died of malpractice. Gen. Garfield was a good man but a weak politician. Being president, he was in position to do vast harm to the republic, and he was doing it by unwise use of patronage, and the Lord and himself took the responsibility of removing him. His duty to the Lord and to the American people overcame his personal feeling towards Gen. Garfield. He sought to remove him and not being a marksman then. Garfield was not fatally shot, but incompetent physicians finished the work, and they, not himself, are responsible for his death. He then speaks of the breach in the republican party and his resolve to remove the president, and claims that the deity ordered him to fire the shot. He refers to his work on theology, insanity in his family, his married life and his life in prison, and appeals to those whom he says he has put in position, and to the general public, to send him money for his defense.

MARINE DISASTERS.

Ship Damaged.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The ship Melrose, from New York for Melbourne and Manila, has put into Capetown to set her rigging and reset her cargo.

A Wrecked Crew.

ADEN, Nov. 13.—The captain and thirty-eight men, passengers and crew of the Dutch steamer Koenig Der Nederlander, recently foundered in the Indian ocean, landed here. They were picked up at Socotra islands. The search for the remainder continues.

Land League Notes.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Hogan, president of the Branch Land League, has been arrested.

Six suspects have been removed from Limerick jail to Clonmel jail, and the force of constables guarding Limerick jail has been replaced by a military force.

One or more regiments now returning from Natal will proceed to Ireland to relieve marines.

At a banquet to-night Earl Spencer, lord president of the council, said every Irish grievance will be redressed. We shall extend to the Irish all the privileges and liberty we possess; but we are ready to shed our blood against a repeal of the union.

Rather Sensible.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—O'Leary, member of the Fenian triumvirate, has written a letter from Paris declaring that while he maintains his principles and is resolved to combat England he deprecates the maligning of Englishmen. Gladstone, he says, has given Ireland a land act such as nobody, a few years ago, could have hoped for, and Forster is very much better than most of the Irish secretaries.

An Extraordinary Scene.

DUBLIN, Nov. 14.—One of the most remarkable scenes ever witnessed in connection with the administration of law in this country, was presented at the office of the land commission Saturday, which was the last day for receiving applications for reduction of rent for November. After this reduction will count from the next rent day in March. Over 13,000 applications were made during the day and night. The court sat until midnight and applications came from all parts. One lawyer presented 1500 from Ulster, another 1000 from Galway, Tipperary and Cork; about 1000 came from Kerry and 200 from Donegal. In fact there was not a county in Ireland but sent applications. There are now over 40,000 applications before the commission. Batches of fresh cases came by almost every train. Curiously enough, among the latest arrivals, about 11 o'clock, was a pile from Parnell's own county (Wicklow), yet it would be a mistake to consider this rush of cases as a breakdown of the influences of the league. Thousands are not paying, although all that a majority of the latter cases ask is a liberal reduction. It can only be a question of time when they come into court, after the court is giving reductions on demand. In the meanwhile there may be much trouble with the most contumacious tenants.

Will Investigate.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The Post referring to the status and previous occupation of some of the assistant commissioners for fixing fair rent under the land act, says a member of parliament when parliament meets, will move for a select committee to inquire into their antecedents and qualifications.

A Desperate Man.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—A party searched the house of one Tobin recently, but he escaped arrest. He was under charge of assaulting the police and suspected of being a fenian. They seized a box containing a large number of new revolvers and cartridges and books and documents connected with the fenian and land league movements.

Fired at.

Gen. Meares, deputy lieutenant for County Westmeath, was fired at by two men from behind a hedge in broad daylight to-day, but was not injured. No arrests made.

An Archbishop Dead.

Pierre Pautinier, archbishop of Besancon, is dead.

Home Again.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 14.—Lord Lorne arrived to-day and was met by Princess Louise and with her proceeded to Eaton Hall, the seat of the Duke of Westminster. They were cheered by thousands of people who had assembled at Birkenhead landing stage. There was also a popular and municipal reception in their honor at Chester.

A Discovery Made.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—A remarkable discovery in connection with the operations of the Fenian organization has been made in Bradford. An accident led to the seizure of a box containing fifty revolvers with documents and other clues, including, it is said, a list of local members and Fenian organizers throughout the country. The box containing arms was found in the cellar of an Irishman named John Tobin in Manningham, a suburb of Bradford.

Ha! Ha! Haw!

A mysterious box sent from America to Ralph Creyke, member of parliament, was opened with great precautions at Woolwich arsenal to-day under the idea that it was an infernal machine, but it was found to contain samples of guano.

Rearrested.

Martin Mullegue, ex-suspect and league organizer in Roscommon and Leitrim counties, has been rearrested under the coercion act and lodged in Galway jail.

Gambetta's Cabinet.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—Gambetta this morning announced to President Grevy the definite formation of a cabinet. It is confirmed that de Freycinet will not enter the ministry, consequently Gambetta has renounced the idea of assuming the presidency of the ministry without a portfolio, and will himself take the portfolio of foreign affairs. The new ministry will be gazetted to-morrow.

The New Cabinet.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—The following is the probable composition of the new ministry which will be gazetted to-morrow: Gambetta, president of council and minister of foreign affairs; Casot, minister of justice; Waldeck Rousseau, minister of the interior; Paul Bert, minister of public instruction; Rouirer, minister of commerce; Cochery, minister of posts and telegraphs; Allemain Targe, minister of finance; Compinon, minister of war; Goujeard, minister of marine; Proft, minister of fine arts; Deves, minister of agriculture, and Rainal minister of works. President Grevy has accepted the new ministry.

Working for a Majority.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—A speedy modification of the May laws is to be expected with a view to obtaining a government majority in the reichstag.

Socialist Victories.

By arrangements with the party of the centre, Liebknecht will relinquish Offenbach in favor of Bebel, whom socialists there will do their utmost to elect to the reichstag. Dietz, socialist, has defeated a progressist at Hamburg, and Frohme, socialist, has been elected at Hanau by a large majority. Dr. Stoecker has at last obtained a seat in the reichstag at Mendon by a majority of 2000.

LISBON, Nov. 13.—A cabinet crisis is caused by the ministers of war and finance through their proposals in the council. Senor De Millo is forming a ministry.

Portuguese Ministry.

LISBON, Nov. 14.—A ministry has been formed as follows: Fontes Perira de Mollax president of council, minister of finance and ad interim minister of war; Reviero, interior; Zerpa, foreign affairs.

Election Rows.

Disturbances occurred in Vidiguerra at the municipal elections. The police thwarted an attempt to murder the mayor. Forty arrests were made. A secret depot of arms and ammunition was discovered.

WRINKLED WACKS.

It is a painful sight to see young ladies in their teens with wrinkled and prematurely old faces; nevertheless it is quite common, and to any one who observes the tendency of the times the reason is very apparent. Owing to flaming advertisements and bogus certificates, in which are used the names of eminent physicians and chemists, the unsuspecting and credulous have been induced to use some of the so-called liquid beautifiers, all of which are known to be positively injurious and if used for any length of time will destroy the complexion, so that it will be next to impossible to restore it. Mothers should be very careful to see that their daughters do not use these preparations but ask for and obtain Slavin's Yosemite Face Powder, the only harmless beautifier. ...own a share of stock of any kind, neither am I interested in any. This is simply the will of God, and he has chosen me to carry this out. He has appeared to me in a dream and requested me to slay you as a public necessity, and in doing so God has assured me that it is by divine Providence I am chosen to do this act, and that by so doing I shall become a public benefactor. I have sworn and taken a solemn oath before the All Living God that I will put you to death. I intended to have shot you yesterday when I saw you with Dillon and Sage. I had my pistol ready and cocked, but a voice from the Lord sounded in my ear saying, "Hold on; give him time to repent, lest he descend into everlasting punishment." Now make your peace with God and prepare for the fate that awaits you and may the Lord have mercy on your soul. I am only the agent of the Lord. The Lord appeared to me again last night and said, "Jay Gould must surely die." And when I reasoned with the Lord in my dream I was told that my life would also be required and I would be hanged. The Lord assured me that no harm would befall me however; that the rope was not made, neither was hemp grown to make a rope to hang me with, and that He would deliver me out of the hands of my enemies.

This is by the express will and command of God that I am chosen to put you to death, and I have sworn before the all living God, the great Jehovah and redeemer of the world, and taken a solemn oath and kissed the holy bible, that I will carry it out within six days from this date if opportunity occurs. Therefore be prepared to meet your fate at any moment, and may God have mercy on your soul. I remain, sir, AN OLD VICTIM.

N. B.—Should I not have an opportunity within six days I will surely do so the first opportunity that occurs.

Gould gave the letter to his brother, Washington E. Conner, and directed every effort to be made to find the writer and punish him. Conner gave the letter to Inspector Byrnes of the detective force and they began devising means to capture the rogue. Personals were inserted in newspapers which drew from the unknown writer a number of other letters, in which he by turns threatens Gould and implored him to help him win back some hundreds of thousands which he claimed to have lost in stock speculations. He sent Gould a key by which personals could be published, using cipher words in place of names of stocks, and by which Gould could give him information on which he could speculate safely. Following this key the inspector and Mr. Conner kept up a correspondence with the blackmailer until to-day. Meanwhile it was discovered that all the letters sent by the blackmailer passed through station E, 34th street and 8th avenue, and a plan was formed to capture him. The postmaster and postmaster-general were consulted and 50 carriers, in citizen's dress, were placed at the disposal of Inspector Byrnes to-day. The carriers assembled at station E at an early hour this morning, and were met there by an equal number of detectives. Soon afterwards each of the 60 letter boxes in the district were watched by a detective and a carrier. Whenever a person dropped a letter in a box a detective kept watch on the person until the carrier had gone to the box, opened it and read the address on the envelope. It was agreed that if the carrier found a letter addressed to Jay Gould the carrier was to raise his hat and the detective was to arrest the person who had dropped it. The secret was closely kept, and at 3 P. M. a tall, well-dressed man of sixty years dropped a letter addressed to Gould into the box at Thirty-fourth street and Seventh avenue. He was arrested at once and taken to the police headquarters, where he admitted his guilt. He gave his address as Col. J. Howard Welles, No. 365 Fifth avenue. He would not give any further information about himself, and it was ascertained afterwards that the address in Fifth avenue, was not his present place of residence, though he had at one time boarded there. He was so much distressed by his arrest, that he was watched closely to-night for fear he would commit suicide. It was said to-night Gould would prosecute Welles.

Gould's "Crank."

Col. John Howard Welles, was to-day arraigned at the Tombs police court, on a charge of attempting to blackmail Jay Gould. Inspector Byrnes applied to Judge Bixby for a remand to enable him to procure necessary evidence to sustain the complaint. The prisoner was then taken back to police headquarters and locked up. It is intimated Inspector Byrnes is in possession of documentary evidence of an important character against Welles not yet published. Jay Gould did not appear in court.

THE GARFIELD OAK SOCIETY.

Memorial Services by Various Associations. Planting the Oak.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The James A. Garfield oak society, formed almost entirely of Germans residing in the eastern districts of Brooklyn, met to-day at Cypress Hill cemetery to plant an oak in memory of the martyred president. A procession of 1200 men, including members of the Grand Army of the Republic, Sixteenth ward battery, Germania Schuetzen fund, John Blum association, the Nineteenth ward battery, Veteran cadets, and Soldiers and Sailors' union, started out at 11 o'clock for the cemetery, and arriving at the spot set apart for the oak the exercises began by an air by the military band followed by the war song by Schwaebischer Saengerbund, in English, oration by Col. Lewis R. Stegman, newly elected sheriff. The solemn planting of the oak was accompanied by a salute of 21 guns, followed by a German oration by Herr Thomann, and the ceremonies ended with a dirge. The throng of spectators at the cemetery was immense and the deepest interest was manifested in the proceedings. Members of various societies wore badges bearing the words: "We mourn our loss," and all were dressed in uniform. Col. Stegman in his address traced the careers of Lincoln and Garfield and showed how much alike they were and how from humble beginnings they had risen to become great leaders of the American nation. Col. Stegman spoke also in eloquent terms of the soldier life of President Garfield.

EXPLOSIONS AT HOME AND ABROAD.

A Destructive Explosion.

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., Nov. 13.—The boilers at the extensive lumber and salt manufactory of Hamilton & McClure, six miles below this city, exploded this morning, wrecking property to the extent of 25,000 and killing four firemen. Debris in every direction; pieces coming down a half mile distant.

A Stampede.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—A dispatch from Troy N. Y., says a calcium light exploded on the stage of the opera house during a performance this afternoon. A panic ensued and several persons were injured, but none fatally.

Fatal Explosion in a Mine.

ROME, Nov. 13.—Forty persons were killed and forty-one wounded by an explosion of gas in sulphur mines near Caltanisetta.

Gas Works Destroyed.

HAMBURG, Nov. 13.—A gas house was destroyed by an explosion to-day and three persons killed and a number injured.

...Marshall's station this forenoon. From what can be learned Osborne first killed Mrs. Prince with a flat iron, as her head was all battered in and a bloody flat iron was found on the floor by the side of her. Attempted Suicide.

BODIE, Nov. 12.—John J. Welch, county assessor, attempted to commit suicide this morning at Bridgeport by shooting himself. It is thought the wound may not prove fatal. A shortness in his accounts, largely, however, on account of collections which he should have made, but did not, is the cause.

A new Road Completed.

The narrow gauge railroad from here to Mono Lake will be completed to-morrow.

ARIZONA.

Railroad Notes.

TUCSON, Nov. 14.—A Star special from ... says: The A. & P. railroad track is laid to St. Joseph, on Little Colorado river, 263 miles west of Albuquerque, New Mexico. It is expected that the track will reach Winslow, near Sunset crossing on the Little Colorado, during this month. This will be the end of the second division, and trains will run regularly after December 1st. As this is but 134 miles from Prescott and 92 miles from Verde, it is expected trade in that direction will be stimulated. There is much satisfaction expressed here at the contemplated union of the S. P. and T. P. railroads. Thomas Nickerson, of Boston, is expected here this week. From here he will visit Sonora and inspect the road running from Hermosillo to Guaymas.

A Split in the Solid South.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—The News' Washington special says: The result of the election in Virginia is hailed with joy by the republicans of this city. It was looked for with more eagerness than that in any other state. Republicans do not look at it as a simple readjuster victory. It signifies much more than that. Its significance is all-reaching, and will be felt more four years hence than to-day. It means the gradual breaking up of the solid south. The victory in Virginia is the entering wedge, and the work begun there will extend until it is confidently predicted at least six southern states will in 1884 cast their electoral votes for the republican candidates for president and vice president. In almost every southern state an independent movement has been gradually growing up, and it is and will be the policy of the present administration to encourage and foster this idea. No matter by what name these independent parties shall be known, so long as their object is the overthrow of the old Bourbon rule that has so long dominated and kept back the south in the march of progress and civilization, they will receive the support of the administration, and any step which will release that section from the democratic yoke will receive the hearty cooperation of the republican leaders.

Prices of Lumber.

A World of Good.

One of the most popular medicines now before the American public is hop bitters. You see it everywhere. People take it with good effect. It builds them up. It is not as pleasant to the taste as some other bitters, as it is not a whisky drink. It is more like the old fashioned bone set tea that has done a world of good. If you don't feel just right try hop bitters.—Nunda News.

TUESDAY MORNING NOV 15 1881

THE GUITEAU TRIAL

Yesterday the technical farce known as the trial of Guiteau began. Or rather the preliminary mummery in connection with arraignment of the defendant and selection of a jury opened. Lawyers have been studying the case for a considerable time and of course the more they study it the greater the obstacles they find to the conviction of the assassin. Scoville, who is managing the defense, has already reached a point where his indignation kindles at the suggestion that the defendant ought to be punished. He does indeed admit that the taking off of President Garfield was a deplorable occurrence but holds that "the unfortunate person who did it is to be pitied rather than condemned."

Many witnesses have been called to testify for Guiteau as if it were possible that any defense could be made. Insanity is the plea. No doubt many witnesses will testify that the conduct of the assassin for years has been peculiar and eccentric. Unquestionably he is a "crank." He has a perverted and vicious mind. Of a certain sort of mental derangement his actions furnish proof enough. But it is equally plain that this derangement is not insanity either actual or legal. There is a true test of accountability in such cases. When one is capable of knowing what he does and of reasoning on the consequences of it there is a sufficient degree of sanity to establish his amenability to punishment. In the present case this test is perfectly clear. Should it be held by a jury under instructions from a court, that a man who can patiently plan and deliberately execute such a deed as Guiteau's and coolly calculate the effects of it, is not responsible for his acts, then court and jury and defendant, with defendant's witnesses and counsel, ought all to be shut up in a madhouse together.

It is nothing more than a farce to attempt to demonstrate in a court of justice that Guiteau is guilty of the murder of President Garfield. Everybody knows he is. Why then should there be a judicial inquiry to determine it? Judicial investigations are properly used to determine the guilt of an accused person, when there is doubt attending the case, or if there may be mitigating circumstances. But here is a crime known to have been wantonly committed, without provocation. It was simply a cold blooded assassination, planned weeks beforehand, and deliberately undertaken. The facts are known to all the world; and no judicial investigation can change or add to them. The case is one of those in which no trial is necessary, and whenever a case of this kind is called in any court, the judge should simply proceed to sentence the accused without delay or any further proceedings in the case. When a case is undoubted, there is no benefit whatever in a prolonged trial; but on the contrary, such trial tends to give the guilty persons an opportunity to escape punishment for their misdeeds. Suppose Guiteau (and we use this case simply as a type of many such which arise constantly in the courts) should plead guilty; would that add anything to the certainty that he is guilty? And if, supposing all the technicalities to be successfully overcome, he should be gravely and ponderously pronounced guilty, would that add an iota to the certainty of the fact that every man already knows? The idea that a judicial investigation in such a case adds anything to the security of established society or tends in any way to prevent injustice to innocent men who may be accused in the courts is a fallacy. There are certain things which courts even now are permitted to know without having them formally proved; and the flagrant and notorious guilt of a murderer is something which also ought to be taken notice of by judicial intelligence. There are such cases in every judicial district; and all that ought to be required in such instances is the presentation of the criminal by the district attorney for sentence. It is an outrage on common sense and a libel on the intelligence of the court to proceed to prove in a formal way what every man knows to be true. The irrational proceedings and technicalities which have grown up around the administration of justice on a false basis clearly appear in such a case as the present, where all the solemn formalities of judicial procedure are invoked,—though there is nothing to be learned by an investigation, and therefore no reason why there should be one. The assassin hopes for immunity through this absurd custom. He counted on it from the first. And it is not improbable that his reasoning upon it will be presented, before the so-called trial is over, as further evidence that he is insane!

It may be admitted that this assassin is not of sound mind. But he knew he was doing wrong in shooting the president, he knew that the act was a crime, that it was forbidden by law, and that he was liable to punishment for it. Before committing the crime he took precautions for his own safety. He feared the penalty, and he fears it now. It is absurd to allege that such a man is irresponsible. If this is to be the finding, no high public functionary will be safe. A mere morbid impulse, while it may be evidence of a greater or less degree of mental unsoundness, is not a demonstration of insanity. Were it so accepted, the "insane" of this class would everywhere take advantage of their irresponsibility and proceed to indulge their morbid impulses without restraint. It is apparent that had Guiteau been convinced that punishment would surely follow his act, he never would have committed it. The lax administration of justice encouraged him to the deed.

A judicious writer says "It ought to be more clearly explained to juries in murder cases that the instances are very rare in which those who are alleged to be insane are incapable of self-control. The actual truth is that in most cases what tempts them to crime is the knowledge that it is crime. They do not have morbid impulses to do benevolent deeds, but only to perpetrate atrocities, and it is the element of evil that attracts them. They could almost always restrain themselves, but they yield because it gratifies them to do so. They are, therefore, not irresponsible, and they ought to be punished with as little hesitation as if they were entirely sane. In fact a homicidal maniac might be killed quite as justifiably as a mad dog is killed." Yet it is gravely asserted that it will be a "disgrace" to the land if this devilish wretch, who deliberately planned a horrible crime and studied the consequences of it, shall be punished,—and this is the appeal in his defense. No doubt the appeal will find sympathy here and there, as the "crank" epidemic presents itself in phases of endless variety.

A BURDEN ON AGRICULTURE.

The New York Times, in a series of articles on the exactions and oppressions of our tariff laws, is taking up the schedule item by item for illustrations. In a recent issue it shows how the agricultural interests of the country are affected most injuriously by the heavy and almost prohibitory duty on railway steel. On first cost of railway building this burden is fully $3000 a mile, and on renewals it is a constant and heavy tax. The Times justly protests against the wrong and injury of loading our American grain with such a burden in competition with foreign grain. "It may be said," the Times remarks, "that the tariff secures to American farmers the home market but it does not. The price of grain here is ultimately fixed abroad, whatever may be its fluctuations. The average home price is determined by that of the surplus exported, and necessarily. Therefore the duty on steel and iron not only hampers the competition of American grain abroad but it lowers the rate of profit on the whole crop." It is not only on railway iron and steel that the tariff hurts the farmer but on iron and steel in all forms in which these products are used in connection with agriculture. For all the "protection" which manufacturers get other classes have to pay. Since the farmers are in one way or another the chief consumers the greater part of the burden falls on them. All others who pay the tax, as railroad people and wagon and plough makers, have a chance to recoup; but they recoup mainly at the expense of agriculture. It is said however that the labor employed in manufactures has the benefit of high wages. But where are the farmers' wages? A Chicago paper before us boasts that men employed in the steel works of that city receive from four to ten dollars a day. It calls these rates "freedom and comfort wages" and asks us to note what protection does. But what does the farmer get? Where are his "freedom and comfort wages"? How many farmers actually realize two dollars a day for their labor to say nothing of a profit on their investment in land? The talk of protecting American labor is a juggle and farce, since the system does not protect but on the contrary actually oppresses the larger part of the labor of the country. To support a comparatively few manufacturers and give them large profits it grinds down the great agricultural classes of the country who are our most numerous and useful laborers.

The election of clerk of the house of representatives will be looked to with some interest when congress meets in regular session next month. Two years ago when the democrats had a clear majority the republicans supported ex-Congressman Rainey (colored) of South Carolina, as their candidate. The republicans will have a majority when congress meets and can elect their candidate. Mr Rainey again presents himself for the position, and the interesting question will be whether he will receive the nomination. It is possible the republicans were "making believe" before and will waste no time on such foolishness now. Such are the ways of politicians.

It is seventeen years since the United States began to employ the postal money order system. During that period unpaid orders have accumulated to the amount of $1,800,000, a large part of which will never be called for. Orders are misdirected, people are sometimes tardy in cashing them, and some go to foreigners who do not know how to obtain the money. The government will always be largely ahead on the business.

The republicans of New York elected their whole state ticket, except Husted for treasurer, by majorities ranging from 8000 to 12,000. Husted was beaten by over 20,000. He is a "stalwart," is one of Conkling's servile followers and therefore a very proper man to "sit down on." He was the only representative of the boss and spoils system on the ticket. As such he was "scratched" all over the state.

There is complaint that the wheat of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa is so soft this year that it does not grind well. The flour of highest grade, when shipped last, will not bear inspection. As a consequence there is sharp competition among millers for the best grades of hard wheat, and milling at Minneapolis and Milwaukee is said to be a losing business.

Nevada is rapidly declining into a second-rate mining state, her product of gold and silver during the year ending June 30, 1881, amounting to but $10,231,830, of which Storey county, containing the once famously rich Comstock lode, yielded $2,940,505, nearly $1,000,000 less than Eureka county.

TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 15, 1881.

CITY.

Doll's Fete.—We have been permitted to see some of the dolls the ladies of the Unitarian church are preparing for the coming "Dolls' Fete" to be given under their auspices during the coming holidays, and for richness of material and style of costume, they excel anything ever seen in Portland before. The dolls will all be sold at reasonable rates, and the cheapest doll will be as correctly dressed as the dearest. Some of the characters, such as "Martha Washington," "Marie Antoinette," "Mary Stuart," are elaborately costumed. The booths too will be shaped in accordance with the character represented, and other novelties in connection with the fete will be introduced. The ladies are untiring in their efforts to make this novel entertainment the success of the holidays.

Cement Company.—Articles were filed yesterday in the county clerk's office incorporating the Oregon Lime and Cement Company. The capital stock is $50,000 and the incorporators are Noah Lambert, J. B. Green, Paul Schulze, David Goodsell, E. M. Hall, J. McCraken A. McCullough. The principal object for the present will be the manufacture of a splendid stone for this purpose is to be found in the southern portion of Douglas county, but for want of capital, the enterprise has not been developed. The foundation of McCraken's cellar, Front and D streets, was laid with county cement, and proves in every respect equal. It is the new company's intention to commence the manufacture of cement on a large scale.

New Town.—Yesterday Wm. Kern of East Portland filed with the county clerk the plat of a new town known as "Marysville." It is on the base line, three miles east of East Portland, on Wm. Kern's donation land claim. The plat covers one hundred and sixty acres, which has been subdivided into lots of five acres each, excluding three thoroughfares named respectively Grant, Lincoln and Garfield streets.

Telegraph Extension.—The construction party employed by the Western Union Telegraph Company, on the line at Lake Pen d'Oreille, have returned. They were out just twenty-one days, and finished forty miles of line, running from Dry lake to Lake Pend Vestner. Offices will be established along the line as soon as possible.

Cleared.—The American bark Alden Besse, Capt. Noyes, will leave this morning for Sydney. She takes 137,600 feet lumber, 114 spars, and 395 Chinese passengers between them. The many friends of Capt. Noyes, one of the most popular masters who ever visited Portland, wish him a safe and speedy return.

Tour of Inspection.—This morning General Sprague, Gerrings and Dr. Minor, accompanied by Engineer Thielsen, leave for Eastern Washington and Idaho to inspect the last completed section of the Pen d'Oreille division of the Northern Pacific, which have just been finished.

New Steamer.—The ocean steamer being built here and owned by Z. J. Hatch, will be completed in a few days and will be launched on the [illegible] month. She has a carrying capacity of [illegible] passengers, and will be used exclusively in the coast trade.

A New Steamer.—The new steamer Salem, purchased by the narrow gauge railroad company, has been purchased by Capt. U. B. Scott and others, and will shortly be placed on the route between this city and the upper Willamette.

Held to Answer.—Ah Shing, the Chinaman who was arrested on the charge of burglary, committed on the premises of Goldsmith & Co., in a preliminary examination yesterday was held to answer in [illegible].

Gone Hunting.—County Assessor Geo. C. Sears left yesterday morning for The Dalles, where he will take a big deer hunt east of the mountains. He will be absent about ten days.

Resumed.—The Oswego iron works, which have been idle for more than a month, while a new furnace was erected, resumed operations Saturday.

Irving Literary Society.—There will be a meeting of this society this evening at eight o'clock. Full and punctual attendance is desired.

Sunk.—The lighthouse tender Shubrick [illegible] Portland with sinkers for buoys [illegible] the Columbia.

BOARD OF TRADE.

Regular Meeting Last Night—Large List of New Members Proposed—The Willamette Improvement.

A regular meeting of the Board of Trade was held last night, Mr. Donald Macleay presiding.

The secretary read a report received from Capt. Chas. F. Powell saying that the channel at the mouth of the Willamette river, was navigable for deepest draught vessels and the buoys in their right position. Capt. Powell was thanked by a vote for this report.

Mr. W. H. Creighton tendered his resignation which was accepted.

A communication was received from H. L. Hoyt, offering to publish a log-book for the guidance of masters and pilots, providing the board would pay for printing the same; accepted.

A communication received from David and W. G. Steel, asking the board to take a certain number of copies of The Resources of Oregon and Washington each month; and promising to print any communications coming from the board free of charge; referred to committee on finance.

The committee on membership reported favorably on the following applications for membership: C. J. B. Malarkey, L. R. Dawson, White, Goldsmith & Co and J. Fred Clark.

The committee to collect funds reported that they had collected $1610 on the first day and that they expected to raise enough to carry out all necessary plans.

Mr. C. H. Dodd moved that all money raised by the committee, or in any other way, for the purpose of improving the Willamette river in any way, should be expended under the advice and direction of U. S. engineers; carried.

Mr. M. S. Burrell moved that the secretary write to Messrs. Corbett, Williams and Mitchell, at Washington, asking them to assist in carrying out the wishes of the board; carried.

A committee of three, including the chair, was appointed to wait upon Mr. D. P. Thompson to ascertain whether they could procure his services to go to Washington, D. C., in behalf of the board.

The secretary was authorized to employ an assistant, at an expense of no more than $75 per month.

Mr. A. J. Kane exhibited and explained a model of his dredge, which was fully described in last Friday's Oregonian.

ADDRESS TO BUSINESS MEN.

Effort to Revive the Local Board of Trade—Important Considerations.

The following letter has been circulated among the business community during the past few days, and the application of more than a hundred business men, whose names appear in another column, for membership in the board is the immediate result. The Board of Trade has long been a limited corporation, an eminently respectable but not very important factor in the business life of the city. It is proposed to make it an active influence in all commercial affairs which may affect Portland:

The undersigned, a committee of the board of trade appointed to secure an increase of membership in the board, respectfully ask your attention to the following facts:

In every city of any commercial importance in the United States, a board of trade exists, and is considered a necessity. It is the medium of communication between the organized intelligence, business energy and capital of the city and other communities. It represents the sentiments of the business men on every subject upon which it acts, and its utterances, recommendations and requests are backed up by whatever of moral, intellectual or pecuniary influence the city wields.

The board of trade of Portland has done a good work heretofore, but has been cramped and hindered by a limited income, thereby preventing it from realizing its utmost usefulness to itself and the city.

The time has come when a united effort on the part of our merchants, capitalists and business men can put it upon a footing to meet the growing importance of Portland, and to keep it fully abreast of the increased life and vigor which the next few years are to infuse into this city.

The urgent need now is increased membership to give an income large enough to warrant the judicious expenditure of money to obtain full and accurate statistics of the commerce of this port, both foreign and domestic. The value of this statistical information can not be overestimated. If we hope to attract capital to undertake manufacturing, we must be prepared to show the consumption of manufactured goods in the various lines, and to convince capitalists that the demand will justify the expenditure necessary to start the factories. Shipping, both steam and sail, and everything else that goes to build up a city, can be attracted in no better way than by making known our resources and commerce, and it is the province of a board of trade to furnish this information. The monthly dues of $1 50 are not large enough to prove a burden to any business, and the aggregation of these small sums, which Portland ought to furnish, would give enough for the present purpose of the board. This is a subject which appeals at once to the pride and self-interest of every man who does business or owns property in the city of Portland.

The committee will soon call upon you, when it is to be hoped you will allow them to present your name for membership.

DONALD MACLEAY, President,
C. H. DODD, 1st Vice President,
P. C. SCHUYLER, 2d Vice President,
F. K. ARNOLD, Secretary,
Committee.

RAILROAD NEWS

GATHERED BY AN "OREGONIAN" REPRESENTATIVE.

The Columbia to be Bridged near Kalama, and the Snake at Ainsworth—Construction Notes.

Orders have been received by the superintending engineer of the Northern Pacific Railroad to build a bridge over Snake river at Ainsworth next year. A competent man will be sent in a few days to make necessary soundings. The bridge will be, including approaches, nearly half a mile long, and will probably be built by contract.

On account of heavy rains, grading on the line between this city and the Cascades has been suspended for the winter, and all workmen who were willing to go have been transferred to the Clark's fork division of the Northern Pacific. The road-bed between the Cascades and The Dalles would have been completed by this time if it had been possible to secure prompt transportation of bridge timbers from this city. This was impossible owing to the extraordinary demands of the wheat crop. However, timbers are now being moved with reasonable promptness and placed in position as fast as consistent with safety. Barring unforeseen accident, the road will probably be in operation to the lower Cascades by December 31st.

Timbers for the Sandy river bridge are now on the ground ready to be put up, and piles or the piers are being driven.

Track laying on the branch between Dayton and Texas Ferry is nearly finished, and trains will be running to the latter point within a week.

There remains to complete the grade from Umatilla to Pendleton the work of about 300 men for two weeks. If the weather be not too severe in January this work will be done and the track laid by early spring.

Engineers are now out setting grade stakes between this city and Kalama. It has been decided to bridge the Columbia near the latter place, and work on the structure will begin next spring. The exact point of crossing has not been determined on.

The Northern Pacific has 2000, [illegible] at work on Clark's Fork division, and have the promise of 2000 more Chinese. They hope to be able to keep a force of 4000 all winter.

NEWPORT NOTES.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.)

NEWPORT, Benton Co., Nov 8, 1881.

The weather for the past two weeks has been delightful.

There is some talk here that the terminus of the Oregon Pacific road will be at Cape Foulweather.

One of the cylinders of the engine used to raise stone for the breakwater has been lost overboard.

Work on the breakwater has been stopped and all the men discharged. Four or five bosses are here yet under pay.

Supplies of nearly all groceries are very scarce here. The schooner R. B. Handy is expected soon with a load of goods, which will relieve the want for a time.

A young man named James Crawford lost his left arm between the wrist and elbow and had a leg broken by the fall of a large stone upon him at the government quarry.

We have the worst mail route here on the coast. The Oregonian arrives from two to three weeks behind time, and then so wet and disfigured that is almost impossible to read it. X. X.

WEST END—COUCH.

At last we have a cistern (corner Fifteenth and D,) without which Couch No. 6 would be of little use, though this alone will be insufficient to meet the necessity when a fire breaks out. For this favor we thank the city council, but we want an alarm box, say on the corner of B and Fifteenth streets; also that Washington street bridge be dispensed with, and the spot filled up. This latter measure is a much needed improvement as an accident is likely to occur that will lay the city liable to heavy damages. It has been suggested the lumber cast aside by the erection of a new bridge on South First street be used in building a bridge on Thirteenth street across the gulch to B street, thereby uniting this portion of the city. We of the west end respectfully call the attention of the city council to these matters.

MANY RESIDENTS.

NO QUARANTINE AGAINST PORTLAND.

A dispatch was published in The Oregonian of yesterday stating that Seattle had quarantined against Tacoma, so that passengers from there to Seattle or Victoria would be compelled to go by way of Olympia. General Sprague, of the Northern Pacific, wishing to learn if the quarantine was against residents of Tacoma only, or through passengers, telegraphed the mayor of Seattle and received the following reply:

SEATTLE, Nov. 14, 1881.

J. W. Sprague—The quarantine is not against through passengers from Portland or Kalama by railroad. JOHN COLLINS, Acting Mayor.

NEW BOOKS.

The following new books just received and added to the Portland library:

Madeline, a novel; by Mrs. Mary J. Holmes.

Hector, a story; by Flora L. Shaw.

The Exiles, a Russian story; by Victor Tissot D'Constant Amero: Translated from the French by George D. Cox.

My First Holiday, or Letters Home from Colorado, Utah and California; by Caroline H. Dall.

Massachusetts in the Woman's Suffrage Movement, a general, political, legal and legislative history from 1774 to 1881; by Harriet H. Robinson.

Elements of Geology, a text book for colleges and for the general reader; by Joseph Le Conte.

The Botanical Text Books, part I., structural botany, or organography on the basis of morphology, to which is added the principles of taxonomy and phytography and a glossary of botanical terms; by Asa Gray, LL. D., etc.

IMPORTANT TO THE PUBLIC.

There is no necessity whatever of going to a Notary Public (to execute a Deed, Mortgage, or other documents) who must necessarily procure the certificate of the county clerk, in conformity with the laws of different states and territories, and a vast amount of difficulty may be avoided simply by calling on Perry & White, No. 29 Stark street, Commissioners of Deeds for all of the States and Territories, who take acknowledgements of and administer oaths to every possible form of legal instrument in existence, including German Powers of Attorney.

Miss Kate O'Connor was a passenger on the outgoing steamer; she goes to San Francisco in the interest of the firm of Minville & Co. She will return about Nov. 25, with the very latest winter styles.

Mrs. A. M. Yocum, fashionable dress- and cloak maker, 183 First st., over Olds & Summers' crockery store. Charges moderate, work unequaled in the city.

Have received per steamer Oregon the largest assortment and latest styles of children's, boys' and youths' clothing in the city, and sold at bedrock figures, at the People's One Price Store, 172 First street.

Minville's late cutter and fitter, Mrs. M. J. Meagher, who cut, designed and draped those elegant suits for the fair, has resumed business for herself at 95 Third street, corner of Stark.

National Washing Powders—Are just the thing; washing made easy. Saves the clothes and does its work well.

Staple Dry Goods, Canton Flannels, Scarlet Flannels, Bed Quilts and Comforters, Towels and Napkins, a special Bargain in every line. MELLIS BROS. & CO.

Sewing machines of all kinds repaired, and needles for them. J. Barbey, Yamhill, bet. First and Second.

Special inducements in Gents' Furnishing Goods. MELLIS BROS. & CO.

Minville's Elegant Dresses, exhibited at the Mechanics' fair, were designed by Mrs. Minville and no one else.

Another medal is added to the many won by that enterprising photographer Abell. It is a silver one and is given for the best general display at the fair. Abell's photos will win anywhere.

We confine ourselves to the truth in advertising our business. We have the only coupes in town. Carriages and coupes may be ordered any time, day or night. ACKER & LEIHY, City Stables.

New Music.—"President Garfield's March" and "A Nation's Tears in Sorrow Fall," song and chorus, two pieces of music in memory of the late president, for sale by M. Sinsheimer, 129 First street, sole agent for Decker & Son's, Behr Bros. & Co.'s and Hardman & Co.'s pianos and Mason & Hamlin organs.

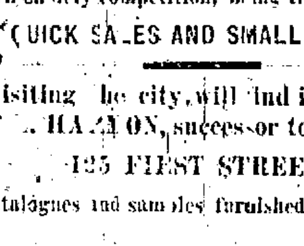

WALTHAM WATCHES.

In 3-ounce silver case 17 00
In 4-ounce silver case 19 50

A written guarantee for two years with above watches. Sent to any part of the state on receipt of coin or money order. W. FRIEDLANDER.
65 First street, Portland, Or.

Ball, Black & Co. of New York, sold last March to a military gentleman an elegant diamond cross, for which he paid $150. Through circumstances beyond his control, he was compelled to pledge it with Uncle Myers, 181 First street. All lovers of the beautiful are invited to call and see it, as it is a perfect mass of gems and will be sold for the amount loaned and interest.

COLUMBIA RIVER CHARGES.

Capt. Gilkey's Statements Examined and their Exaggerations Exposed.

[Correspondence Walla Walla Union.]

There appeared in your Daily of Nov. 3d, the purport of an interview with Capt. Gilkey of the ship Dakota, now loading or loaded at Tacoma with wheat, in which he champions the proposition that it was cheaper for him to load at Tacoma rather than Portland, by the bunching together of figures which would seem to prove his claim. But they consist of specious items which go to prove that "figures will lie" when employed by a skillful hand. He gives the total cost of bringing his ship from the ocean over the Columbia river bar to Portland and return for all items, including the lighterage of nearly two-thirds her cargo, at $2800. I am confident he overstates the inward and outward bar towage in his estimate at least $200. Towage from Astoria to Portland and return can be contracted for $400 instead of $525 itemized by him. Even as confessedly bad as the bars in the rivers have been this year, owing to the stupidity of the government engineers who dismantled the only dredger we had, expecting to complete a better one for this fall's service, and failing in usual governmental style—there has been no time but that the Dakota could have taken 1000 tons of her carrying capacity from Portland wharves, while to-day she would not have to lighter more than 200 tons. But at the worst this fall, from the misadventure named, Capt. Gilkey has added 300 tons at $1 25 for lighterage, or $375 more than would have been necessary. These several items of surplusage (not up $700 to deduct from his finding of $2800, which would leave a probable expenditure of $2800, as the cost of getting in and out of the Columbia river at the exceptional time he named, which can only be offset by two days' average sail and $400 as the cost of getting into Puget sound. He estimates sailing expenses at $100 per day, which he knows is about double the actual cost, so that the two days sail at $50 per day, and towage to Puget sound foots up $500 for the cost of getting to Tacoma from opposite Columbia river bar, as against $2800 to Portland and return, making a difference of $2300 against Portland. But as Capt. Gilkey had to pay $3000 to get his load from Portland to Tacoma, it does not require much figuring to demonstrate that the captain would have been profited $1300 to have come direct to Portland, or $600 by his own count. The advocates of the Columbia river way of shipment have much to be chagrined at, that we were left in an utterly helpless condition by the lapse of stupid government engineers, as before related, by which Capt. Gilkey's exhibit was made at least $1000 more against us. It is safe to say it will never occur again, so that the relative difference between Puget sound and Columbia river as to cost of ingress and egress will not be to the disadvantage of Portland in excess of 25 cents per ton. In promotion of the object of improving the river, I might as well say that the City of Portland will vote a five mill tax, which will produce $85,000, to be used on river improvements. Bar and river pilotage and towage will be reduced and regulated at the next session of the legislature to conform to the increased business springing up which makes such reduction justifiable. I think there is no one to mourn any exactions made off of ships in the last two years, whose owners, like vultures over a certain prey, have digged deep into the vitality of the commercial and farming interest by unjust exactions. The spectacle of Capt. Gilkey accusing of exorbitance, and at the same time confessing to the ninety shilling charter—at least thirty shillings more than is justifiable—proves that his wail is exceedingly like that of the Pharisee. Although the transportation interests are concerned and anxious to add 160 to 175 miles of further carriage to the products of this country, they do not wish to do it, nor will they do it except for extra pay. Mr. Villard expressly declared to your correspondent, in the presence of Mr. Muir, that if he carried the grain to Puget Sound he should exact a pro rata increase over Portland carriage. In the face of such a declaration those who are so free to predict the decadence of shipping out of the Columbia river must imagine a much worse state of affairs in that stream than Captain Gilkey found at an exceptional period. With the natural jealousy of Portland to maintain her own, he gives very poor credit for sagacity who will imagine she will not exert herself when her interests are imperiled. Mr. Editor, I do not expect dunderheads or those who are wilfully blind to the logic of the existent to assent to my conclusions, as the pessimist is always full of forebodings of dire disaster, and his gloom over the Columbia river is of that deep and darkly terrible hue which only intensifies with time, but in the meantime the river runs to the sea, bearing its burden of commerce as it always will, outward to the ocean. CLOSE RESEMBLANCE.

Between the Entrance to the Columbia and the Entrance to Shoalwater Bay.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

I notice in regard to the loss of the two ships recently near Shoalwater bay that the court of inquiry and the papers generally attribute the disaster entirely to an error of judgment on the part of the captain in mistaking Shoalwater bay for Columbia river. A word of explanation at this time in regard to this matter may not be out of place and may be of use in future.

Having been engaged on the coast for twenty years, and being familiar with Shoalwater bay, I may claim to speak from experience, and it seems to me that ignorance or carelessness may be too freely charged and injustice may be done.

The mistaking of Shoalwater bay for Columbia river is no new thing, and may be very easily done for the similarity is very striking. In the first place Leadbetter Point, or as it is often called the peninsula, is almost a duplicate of Clatsop beach and Point Adams. The Willapa hill back of Shoalwater bay resembles Chinook Point.

There is also a saddle mountain that shows in clear weather south of the bay that corresponds exactly with the one south of Astoria. And, finally, Cape Shoalwater, although not resembling Cape Disappointment when nearly approached, yet when seen from a distance of 18 or 20 miles, could be easily mistaken one for the other. I have known this to happen to many of our best coasting captains, even to one so efficient and capable as the late Captain Conner, with a Columbia bar pilot on board whom I could name if necessary. Now, this being the case, is it strange that a foreign vessel approaching the coast in thick weather, with no chance to get observations for latitude, should occasionally fall into that error, particularly as I understand that even the buoys are similar, a matter of which I am not competent to speak, not having been to Shoalwater bay recently. By placing this matter clearly before the public, as I before remarked, it may be of some service to future captains approaching the coast, and to only a matter of justice to those who have lost their vessels by an unfortunate mistake.

J. J. WINANT,
Master of schooner R. B. Handy.

Humbugged Again.

I saw so much said about the merits of hop bitters, and my wife, who was always doctoring and never well, teased me so urgently to get her some, I concluded to be humbugged again, and I am glad I did, for in less than two months' use of the bitters my wife was cured, and she has remained so for eighteen months since. I like such humbugging.—H. T., St. Paul.—Pioneer-Press.

The Daily Oregonian.

TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 15, 1881.

THE NORTHWEST.

Eastern Oregon.

A band of horses numbering 88 head, belonging to the estate of H. J. Waldron, were sold at auction in The Dalles last week. The average price was $50 per head.

George McNulty, son of Capt. McNulty, is lying sick with the smallpox at his home in The Dalles. The case is isolated as much as possible and the patient is doing well.

The following entries were made at The Dalles land office during October: Timber culture, thirty entries; pre-emption filings, thirty-nine; homestead entries, twenty-two; cash entries eight. The total aggregate, 18,950 acres.

A homicide occurred at Prairie City, Grant county, recently, a well known resident, A. E. Starr, shooting and killing a young man named Jeff Parry. The cause given is that the latter had refused to marry the daughter of the former, with whom he had been for some time keeping company. The girl is but 16 years old and all connected with the affair have heretofore been persons of good repute.

Western Oregon.

The Yaquina bay harbor improvement fund in Benton county has reached $2502 35.

Mrs. Jul a Smith, wife of H. R. Smith, died at her residence near Salem on the 10th inst.

F. B. Dunn purchased the hop product of Lane county this year, 60,000 pounds, paying therefor $10,240.

Chas. Dohse, for many years a resident of Corvallis, died at his home in that place on the 10th inst. aged 61 years.

W. F. Barrows of Linn county, butchered five hogs, thirteen months old, which weighed in aggregate when dressed 1742 pounds. He realized from their sale about $122.

Frank Marsh was taken before the Lane county circuit court last week to plead to the indictment found against him for burglary near Latham. He plead guilty, was sentenced to three years imprisonment in the penitentiary, was back in the jail within fifteen minutes, and was taken to the penitentiary next day.

Travel has now almost ceased for this year across the Lebanon mountain road, and very few more will attempt the trip before the road opens next spring. Walter McGee, the keeper of the gate at Canyon creek, says that the number of wagons passing that point was 758, and that the toll collected amounted to a little over $1000.

On July 31, 1880, J. C. Cartwright shot and killed Frederick Mendes in the Mohawk valley, Lane county. He was indicted and tried at the succeeding November and April terms of the circuit court, each time the jury disagreeing. He was again placed on trial last Tuesday, and after the case had been ably argued by attorneys, a verdict was rendered by the jury after a few hours' absence, of manslaughter. The three trials have cost the county about $3000.

Southern Oregon.

Robert W., son of J. B. Wrisley of Jacksonville, died at Roseburg on the 10th inst., aged 35 years.

There will be a larger acreage of grain sown in Douglas county this year than last. Every town in the county reports dullness in trade, and the reason of it is the farmers everywhere are busily engaged in putting in crops, and will not spare time to come in to attend shopping. Information is at hand showing there is one-third more plowing done already than had been accomplished this time last year, and still work is being pushed forward at all possible speed. It would appear that the good prices received by the farmers this year for their wheat has given them increased life and corresponding activity.

Washington Territory.

There were three deaths from smallpox in Dayton last week.

There are now 1600 tons of wheat piled up on the ground at Texas ferry and more constantly coming.

There are 23 prisoners in the Walla Walla jail, 13 of whom are awaiting trial and ten serving out sentences.

The citizens of Waitsburg have made ready for the coming of the smallpox by building a pest house. It is well situated for the purpose and will accommodate two or three patients.

A boy 13 years old, a son of W. S. Malloy who lives on the Mullan road some 19 miles from Waitsburg, was kicked by a horse in the barnyard on Monday evening of last week. The blow came with full force on his head, crushing his skull frightfully and fatally.

An average of 100 cords of wood are brought down daily over the Mill Creek Flume and Manufacturing Co.'s railroad, besides a large quantity of lumber. Logs 20 feet long, are also being brought down to the yard, where they are sawed and split into cord wood by a force of Chinamen.

The Yakima was higher last week than has been known for some time at this season of the year. On Saturday the ferryboat was washed down stream and landed on an island, and on account of the force of the current it is impossible to reach it. The mail was taken across the river in a canoe by some Indians.

The new benches for the Walla Walla court house are 16 feet long, have solid ash legs, solid cedar backs and seats, are trimmed with black walnut and varnished. There are 34 of them. Besides the benches there are for the lawyers, jurors and officers 156 arm and a dozen revolving chairs. For the judge and clerk a couple of elegant leather finished, spring-seated, revolving chairs have been procured.

A party of four, in attempting to cross the Natches in a wagon on Saturday of last week, were thrown into the river and three of them drowned. The persons were George Hull and wife, Mrs. Hull's sister, and a young lady whose name could not be ascertained. Mrs. Hull, her sister, and the young lady were drowned before help could reach them, though great efforts were made. Mrs. Hull is the daughter of Wm. Lewis, and is well known in Yakima county.

D. A. Budd left Walla Walla a few days since for the lands lately purchased by the O. I. Co. in Whitman county, accompanied by one six-horse, four four-horse and one four-mule team, drawing new Bain wagons loaded with tents, supplies and baggage. There were a dozen men with the outfit. Large tents, enough to comfortably accommodate 45 men, were taken with the necessary kitchen outfits, etc. The men and teams are to be employed in breaking and seeding as rapidly as possible 20,000 acres of the company's lands. More men and teams will be employed at the work as rapidly as they can be obtained. The men receive $30 per month and board, and the company own the stock, tents and farm machinery. The work by the O. I. Co. will do much to develop the fertile Palouse country.

Idaho.

A lot of roughs took Bullion, on Wood river, a few days ago, and held the place for some time. While in their possession, Bill Kelly, the leader, went into the office of the Gold and Silver mining company and ordered H. Stevenson, the book-keeper, at the muzzle of a six-shooter, to draw a check in his favor on McCornick & Co., at Bellevue. Kelly then put his pistol down and was folding up the check, when Stevenson, quick as a flash, snatched up Kelly's weapon, at the same time drawing his own, and dropping it on the ruffian, ordered him to leave the office. This he did, minus check and revolver.

A shooting affray occurred in Bellevue, in Idaho, on the 2d inst., resulting in the death of Ed Hyer, a butcher of that place. A gambler by the name of Burns Buchanan is the murderer. The weapon used was a shot gun. Eight buck shot struck the victim, two passing through the neck, one through the hip, one in the left arm, one through the left shoulder, two through the breast, and one about an inch above the navel. There were fourteen buckshot in the front of Mitchell's saloon, where the shooting took place, and twenty-six in the side of the building occupied as the B. & B. stage office. Buchanan went to Hailey and gave himself up to Sheriff Gray. The cause of the shooting was a dispute between the men over the acquittal of B. F. Parry, charged with killing Dave Hay at that place a short time ago.

Effects of the Treaty.

[San Francisco Chronicle.]

There is no escaping this one fact. When the reciprocity treaty, so-called, was first urged, it was on the ground that it would give us cheaper sugars on the Pacific coast. Elaborate statements were made, showing that if the government permitted the Hawaiian planters to land their sugar in the United States duty free, the consumers on this coast would be enabled to purchase that commodity much cheaper than it was sold at the east. The bait was a seductive one. It fooled nearly everybody. [It did not fool Portland merchants nor this journal.—Ed. Oregonian.] Some few there were who held out against all allurements and declared that no good would come of the treaty. These, however, were generally supposed to be in alliance with the sugar refiners of this city, who were then all hostile to the proposed reciprocity, and had very little sympathy with their opposition. But whatever their motives their predictions have been realized. The people of the Pacific coast instead of benefiting by the operation of the treaty are positive sufferers. Although the government waives a duty amounting from 2¼ to 5 cents a pound on sugar brought into this port, we are to-day paying 2¾ cents a pound more than the people of the eastern states, who are forced to buy sugar which has paid duty. It is not easy to recount all the evils that have resulted from the reciprocity treaty, but the good that it has done our citizens can be briefly stated by saying that it has so immensely enriched one American that to-day he is regarded as a commercial despot whom no Pacific coast grocer dare to disobey.

A Drawing sent by Telegraph.

[Philadelphia Record.]

A souvenir of the electrical exposition in Paris has been brought to this country by the Hon. Strickland Kneass, of the Pennsylvania railroad, who has jealously guarded it since his return from his European tour. It is a life-like drawing of the shoulders, head, face and mouth of an officer of the French Grenadier Guards, which was transmitted a considerable distance by electricity. The drawing is about six inches long by three wide, on ordinary white paper, and the method of executing this remarkable feat was in this wise: The original sketch was made by hand in the form of dots, metallic ink being used. The sheet was then placed on a table directly under the pointer of an ordinary telegraph wire. This pointer was moved rapidly to and fro over the drawing, a receiver at the other end being worked in precisely the same way. Each time that the pointer came in contact with the metallic ink dots the circuit was closed, and a corresponding impression made upon a piece of paper at the other end of the line. This process was continued until every dot had been carried over the wires, and the transmission was so perfect that without a distinguishing mark the person who made the original drawing could not have told one from the other. The words "Partenneaux, First Brigadier de Paris," were also transmitted in facsimile. During the session of the congress letters were written and transmitted by electricity, and signatures to checks and notes of hand are now being forwarded hundreds of miles in the same manner in this sister republic.

Garfield and Bliss.

Dr. Bliss, it is reported, rates the value of his services to the late president at $5,000. A friend of the Garfields is quoted by a correspondent of the Philadelphia Press as saying that at Elberon a few days before he was shot the President said to Dr. Boynton, who had been treating Mrs. Garfield during her dangerous illness: "Silas, you have rendered me a service which I can never repay. I am not going to ask you for the amount of your bill, but I am going to have my own way in this matter, and insist that you accept this check." It was filled out for a sum not to be counted by hundreds. "You have had your own way, James," replied Dr. Boynton, "now I will have mine. I shall not accept a cent of this money. I am only too happy to have been of service to you and yours." The president told this story to the gentleman who relates it while riding to the Soldiers' Home near Washington. His eldest son Henry sat on the front seat of the carriage. Turning to him, the president said: "Harry, I want you to remember your uncle Silas as long as he lives."

STATE CO-OPERATION.

Third Day.

AMITY, Nov. 10, 1881.

Convention opened by singing and prayer, A. W. Lucas in the chair.

Committees on evangelical work and resolutions made their reports both of which were adopted.

After a short recess Prof. F. F. Campbell read an essay on "Religious Education." This essay and all other addresses were decided to be published in pamphlet form with minutes of the convention.

Secretary read financial report of the missionary board, which was adopted.

Report of committee appointed by Christian college read and adopted.

A resolution was offered to continue publication of the Pacific Christian Messenger.

Session closed with singing and benediction.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Names of additional delegates were announced.

Resolution pending before adjournment of morning session was taken up and adopted.

A temperance petition was presented.

Reports were read from churches at Mill Creek, Beaver Creek, Selo, St. Helens and Amity.

After discussion a resolution was passed asking that unfermented juice of the grape be used for communion service.

Further general discussion ensued and, after singing, convention adjourned.

EVENING SESSION.

After opening services Elder D. T. Stanley of Monmouth opened a discussion on Sunday schools with an excellent argument concerning their benefit.

Discussion of various other church subjects followed, and resolutions were adopted as follows:

Resolved, That the delegates attending this co-operation extend to the brethren and friends at Amity their sincere thanks for the many hospitalities and favors extended to them, and assuring them that they will always remember with gratitude and pleasure the cheerful manner in which these favors have been extended.

Resolved, That we tender to the various railway and navigation companies who have transported our delegates over their lines of travel at reduced rates our heartfelt thanks.

Fourth Day.

The time of holding the next co-operation was reconsidered and changed to Wednesday, June 21, 1882, at 2 P. M.

The interests of the cause at Corvallis were presented by Rev. Bruce Wolverton and T. F. Campbell.

On motion it was ordered that the minutes of the entire session be printed in the first number of the next volume of the Messenger.

The thanks of the Portland church were extended to the association and the churches of the state for their assistance in building up the cause in Portland.

A brief address was made by Rev. Bruce Wolverton on "Another Year," and after prayer and general remarks the convention adjourned sine die.

THE VALLEY OF DEATH.

The Fate of Immigrants on its Burning Sands.

The Valley of Death, a spot almost as terrible as the prophets' valley of dry bones, lies just north of the old Mormon road to California—a region thirty miles long by thirty broad, and surrounded, except at two points, by inaccessible mountains. It is totally devoid of water and vegetation, and the shadow of a bird or wild beast never darkens its white, glaring sands. The Kansas Pacific railroad engineers discovered it, and some papers, which show the fate of the "lost Montgomery train," which came south from Salt Lake in 1850, guided by a Mormon. When near Death Valley some came to the conclusion that the Mormon knew nothing of the country, so they appointed one of their number a leader, and broke off from their party. The leader turned due west, and so, with the people and wagons and the flocks, he traveled three days, and then descended into the broad valley whose treacherous mirage promised water. They reached the center, but only the white sands, bounded by scorching peaks, met their gaze. And around the valley they wandered, and one by one the men died, and the panting flocks stretched themselves in death under the hot sun. The children crying for water, died at their mothers' breasts, and with swollen tongues and burning vitals, the mothers followed. Wagon after wagon was abandoned, and strong men tottered and raved and died. After a week's wandering, a dozen survivors found some water in the hollow of a mountain. It lasted but a short time, when all perished but two, who escaped out of the valley and followed the trail of their former companions. Eighty-seven families, with hundreds of animals, perished here, and now, after 22 years, the wagons stand still complete, the iron works and tireware bright, and the shriveled skeletons lie side by side.

DR. BRENAN,

The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast in the Treatment of

ALL CHRONIC & DIFFICULT DISEASES.

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of Disease of the generative organs or private disease. He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHŒA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organizations broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored. Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

Office—132 and 134 Third St., opposite Masonic Hall. Office Hours—From 10 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 P. M. To all letters of professional business must be addressed DR. PAUL M. BRENAN & CO., Portland, Oregon.

U. S. MARSHAL'S CITATION.—UNITED States of America, district of Oregon, ss.: Whereas, A libel of information hath been filed in the district court of the United States of America for the district of Oregon, on the 9th day of November, 1881, by Mr. Rufus Mallory, United States attorney, against 14 cases of distilled spirits and 2 cases of wine, which, by Mr. J. C. Horr, a special agent of the Treasury Department of the United States, on the 15th day of October, 1881, at Harrisburg, in the territory of Alaska, were seized as forfeited to the United States for the reasons and causes in said libel mentioned, and praying the usual process and monition of the said court in that behalf to be made, and that all persons interested in the said property may be cited, to answer the premises, and all due proceedings being had, that the said property above mentioned may, for the causes in said libel mentioned, be condemned as forfeited to the use of the United States, according to the form of the statute in such case made and provided. Therefore, in pursuance of the said monition, under the seal of the said court, to me directed and delivered, I do hereby give notice unto all persons claiming the said property or knowing or having anything to say why the same shall not be condemned as forfeited to the use of the United States, pursuant to prayer of said libel of information, that they be and appear before the said district court, at the city of Portland, in said district, on the 5th day of December, 1881, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, if the same shall be a day of jurisdiction, otherwise at the next day of jurisdiction thereafter, then and there to interpose a claim for the same and to make their allegations in that behalf. Dated at Portland, in said district, this 12th day of November, 1881. EDWARD S. KEARNEY, United States Marshal for the District of Oregon.
